

Are you the missing piece?™

ConsultantRegistry.Org

Serving Security, IT and Communications Consultants

Integrator/Manufacturer Newsletter

August 2009

www.ConsultantRegistry.Org

An Organization for Consultants by Consultants

Volume 1, Issue 1

Special points of interest in this issue:

- Consultant Membership Continues its Steady Increase
- New Integrator Listing Service
- Advertising Options For Manufacturers
- CRO Roadmap
 - iPhone Security App
 - OpenID
 - Estimation tool

Manufacturers

Promote your participation by displaying a Sponsor Badge or use CRO OpenID for your secure partner areas

Integrators

Tell consultants that you support their organization

Email us for more information:
gb@consultantregistry.org

Thank You for Joining ConsultantRegistry.Org!

A couple of things have been a long time in coming. First, is this personal welcome to our site and second is how to get the most from ConsultantRegistry.Org.

ConsultantRegistry.Org is growing faster than we could have imagined. We had hoped to have at least 50 U.S. consultants by now. We blew past that with more than 120 confirmed independent consultants, including 15 international consultants since our roll-out on February 10th of this year.

This definitely shows that consultants are looking for a home. They are not the only ones. The remainder of our current membership, which is now hovering over 110, is made up of vendors, integrators, distributors and service suppliers.

This interest level and inquiries from our consultant members have lead us to develop our new "Integrator Listing Service".

- Integrators get listed to be on consultants bid lists
- Manufacturers find quality integrators across the US & worldwide
- Consultants no longer have to rely on public notice alone
- Our consultants have worked on 100's of millions of dollars worth of projects you need to know about

Sign in today to checkout the new listing service

* While you are there, make sure your profile is complete so your company is well represented!

What's New

A new "Resources" page is available on the header bar of the site. The Resources page provides links to most security manufacturers. Many other major announcements are coming in a few weeks so visit the site often to stay updated on the new information available.

- CRO has begun co-marketing with SIA (Security Industry Association)
- We have entered into an arrangement with Security CEU to provide discounted CE and CEU training courses to our members.
- CRO in the final stages of an agreement with a estimation/quotation software company that will provide discounted offering to CRO members and will list any interested manufacturers' products.
- CRO is presenting at a product manufacturer's Consultant only venue at ASIS where we will announce a giveaway of 100 free iPhone security application licenses for consultant members.

